TRYING TO OUST A WOMAN.

Politicians Wage War on Postmistress at Mackinaw, Ill.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Bloomington, Ill., May 2.-A fight for a Post Office is attracting the attention of the people of Tazewell County. Mrs. Hill is the present postmistress at Mackinaw, being appointed when her husband died during Cleveland's first administration. She proved a successful official, and was not disturbed until two years ago, when charges of carelessness in the general appearance of the office were filed.

A prominent citizen who was after the office, championed the cause of Colonel Conzieman, who was a candidate for Congress, to oppose Graff, the understanding being that he was to get the Post Office if Conzieman were elected. Mrs. Hill saw the necessity for action to save her job, and, after laying her plans, organized the township for Graff, and rounded up enough votes to send a delegation to the county convention, which was favorable to that candidate. This settled the case and Mrs. Hill was not disturbed.

Now it is said that the same rival candidate is in the field for the office, but this time claims to have been a Graff follower always, and that the trouble of two years ago should be forgotten.

Mrs. Hill is not worried over the situation, but she is busily engaged in securing signers to a petition, favoring her retention. Her enemies have petitions out asking for her removal. Many have signed both petitions and there is much excitement over the outcome of the contest. during Cleveland's first administration.

PROTECTING GOOD NAME. Damage Suit by Doctor R. V. Pierce's

The publishers of a monthly publication in Philadelphia have been sued for EMO-600 by Doctor R. V. Pierce's company, the World's Dispensary Medical Association of Buffalo, N. Y. In an article attacking patent medicines it was charged that the well-known remedy, called "Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription," contained I7 per cent of alcohol, also certain drugs, and that these ingredients made the medicine harmful and dangerous. The sworn complaint declares that the above statement is wholly and absolutely false in every particular, and that the medicine contains no deleterious ingredients whatever, and none of the ingredients whatever, and none of the ingredients atted in the article so published, being made of certain extracts of medicinal plants and roots—harmless to the most delicate constitution.

certain extracts of medicinal plants and roots-harmless to the most delicate constitution.

When called upon, Dr. V. Mott Pierce, an officer of the company, said:

"The charges made against our medicine are absolutely false, as the complaint in our suit shows. We find it hard to understand how a reputable magazine should make such a damaging statement without taking pains to ascertain the facts. The remedy, 'Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription,' is so well and favorably known, and has such a wide sale, that we could not afford to allow such a charge to pass unanswered. The fact is the Favorite Prescription' is composed of extracts of medicinal plants, roots and herbs, which would not harm the most delicate system. It is a false and unfounded attack upon the good name and repute of our company."
